Enhance your employee benefits

As a business organization, you are always looking for new ways to bring benefits to your company and its employees. Credit union membership is a great way to show your employees you care about them and their financial health. There is no cost for you to provide membership, plus a Southland membership provides your employees with lower loan rates, higher interest earnings on deposits, and many more valuable benefits. When you partner with Southland, you gain a trusted partner.

Your staff may come to you with questions about their personal financial situation and who they can trust for their financial needs. Consider offering Southland Credit Union membership. Research shows that a financially fit employee is a more productive employee. Membership with Southland Credit Union will provide your employees with a safe, low-cost alternative to traditional banking and provide a lifetime of value.

We invite your company and employees to become Southland Credit Union Members and enjoy the Southland difference today. We look forward to serving all your financial needs.
